CARE FOR THE PEOPLE RAISING SMALL CHILDREN

Slow, attuned support for the grown-ups raising children.

A small team of educators, clinicians, and bilingual practitioners across Western North Carolina, offering training, consultation, and groups that meet families and teachers exactly where they are.

Reflective practice

We sit beside, not above. Slow work that respects how families and teachers actually learn.

Trauma-informed

Honest about what's hard. Steady in helping the adults around small children stay regulated and present.

Bilingual English & Spanish

Every offering available in both languages, led by native speakers. Inglés y Español.

WHAT WE OFFER

For families, teachers & programs

-  Autism Workshops & Support
Training, consultation, and family support, grounded in dignity, sensory awareness, and lived experience.
-  Field Notes
Essays, training, and resources from our practice, for anyone tending small lives.

-  The BEAR Program
Guided play with teddy bears in early childhood classrooms, inviting feelings, stories, and healing.
-  Reflective Consultation
One-to-one and team-based supervision for educators, home visitors, and clinicians.

-  Research & Evaluation
Program evaluation, surveys, and outcomes research for early childhood organizations and the people who fund them. The numbers, held with the same attention we bring to a classroom.
